Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 03 November 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2 and 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Myhre.

Regarding claim 1 Myhre teaches a cylindrical pressure sensor cavity 46 comprising a convex conical open end (col. 3 lines 59-63), and a first bearing surface 116; an internally threaded collet 60 comprising a second bearing surface 114 that bears on the first bearing surface 116 when the internally threaded collet 60 is threaded onto a pressure port, causing the convex or concave conical open end to bear on a concave or convex conical mating surface of the pressure port (col. 4 lines 20-40); and a housing 20 that captures the internally threaded collet 60 on the cylindrical pressure sensor cavity.

Regarding claim 2 Myhre teaches the cylindrical pressure sensor cavity further comprises a flange 94 to which the housing is affixed.

Regarding claim 5 the housing is an electrical connector 10 housing.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 3,4 and 6 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The cited prior art does not disclose nor suggest the first contact surface of the cylindrical pressure sensor cavity has first angle and the second contact surface of the internally threaded collet has a second angle that provide a line contact when the internally threaded collet is threaded onto the pressure pod, and a third angle of the convex or concave conical open end provides a line contact to the concave or convex conical mating surface of the pressure port the cylindrical pressure sensor cavity has a groove that provides lateral stress relief to the cylindrical pressure sensor cavity.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Andre J. Allen whose telephone number is 571-272-2174. The examiner can normally be reached on mon-fri 8:00-4:30.
